bviously, for each person, the events that combine to make up his conception of a school year are different. Yet, for all, they are basically the same—with only the emphasis changed.

In this collection of recollections, it is our intention to present to you the events of one year at Mount Union College as they were and not as they should have been, and to leave inference and judgment as the privilege of those who participated and watched.

When you're up there everything seems so insignificantly small,
and then you come down and realize you're a part of it.

REPORTABLE OCCURENCES 1974-1975

This calendar is a one year history of the college which, like all tales, includes many glimpses of the yet more ancient history that preceded it. Arranged chronologically is one UNONIAN year; which is a time period distinguishable from, but not independent of, a calendar, fiscal or academic year, extending between consecutive spring terms. As for any inner meaning or message, the calendar has not one but various. As the time passed and the story grew, many issues were tossed about and ideas were raised. Those who prefer to analyze such events might do well to consider each circumstance separately or all in totality. Source materials consist of the spontaneity of the Mount Union masses and the perpetuators of Mount Union College. Nothing or little that went on has been modified intentionally.

APRIL

1 80-page report of the college's Long Range Study Committee presented to the Board of Trustees at their annual spring meeting. The report, which contains sections dealing with all aspects of campus life, makes several recommendations in the area of academic affairs. In essence, the committee proposes that Mount Union continue to adhere to its liberal arts emphasis with strong provision for vocational offerings. The recommendations of the committee on academic affairs, as well as other areas of the college, are under study by various committees of the Board of Trustees.

Mount Union key to success GAME

A Game First Played In 1846 in Alliance, Ohio (Revised Rules—1975)

A SIT LUX Production

GAME RULES

This is a game of skill, strategy, and chance, the object of which is to start as a freshman and finish.

You will need a pair of dice and a few assorted friends, preferably MUC students. After determining the order of the throws (by playing eenie meenie or something comparable) and choosing moving pieces (pop cans, buttons, pennies, or other worthless objects will do), you are ready to begin.

This is a game with many rules which must be followed strictly. Violations are intolerable. The basic rules are:

Boys and girls cannot play together past the hours of 12:00 on weekdays and 2:00 on weekends.

This game is not intended to be played simultaneously with the imbibement of any mind altering substances.

TIME LIMIT

At the beginning of the game each player should be made aware of the externally imposed time limit. When the allotted time runs out, anyone who has not finished must either wait until the next session of THE MOUNT UNION KEY TO SUCCESS GAME or relinquish his points, for points made in this game are not easily transferrable to others of a similar nature.

now the real rules:

HOW TO PLAY THE GAME

Each moving piece starts at the START box, which is the freshman mixer. The first person to roll a SIX moves to Chapman Hall to get a good education to get a good job. Be careful to stay on the sidewalk en route. The next player to roll a FIVE goes to the bookstore (box 3). To get out of the bookstore one must either roll a 10 or pay $100. Everyone must pass through the bookstore before continuing with the rest of the game. If any player fails to roll a FIVE after two consecutive tries, he must go to academic probation and sit out one turn. After leaving the bookstore, go to your exam in Lamborn (box 4). After two hours of thinking, if you roll a twelve, an eight, or a two you deserve a party. Go to Miller Hall, #5. Proceed with caution. The next move is a free one. Streak to the number of your choice and spend the night there. From wherever you now are, meet your parents for the big game in the stadium. (#6). Throw the dice again. If you roll a ten, take your parents to their car and bid them farewell. Now that your parents are gone, if you roll anything but a six and a nine you may go out for the weekend. If not, go straight to bed. Make the rounds of the Bier House, the Neighborhood, Madsen's, Pizza Hut, Dick and Dina's, and the Phi Tau House before your next roll. After resting at number SEVEN roll whatever you want and go to Dussell House. Roll again to come back down onto the board and spend the day in the health center, #8. The next morning you may play with WRA in Timken, (number nine number nine, number nine). If you score on the next roll you may have free admission to the concert in Memorial Hall, number TEN. After the concert you must spend your next turn and your money in the snack bar since you are now very hungry and Ruthie has a special for you there. Return to #3.

Now you are back at number THREE, which means not only the perpetual continuance of this game but also that you will never have to return to the freshman mixer, UNLESS you:

a. have the skill to strategically make 36 uninterrupted rounds of the board and take 36 successful finals in Lamborn (#4).
b. sit at 3½ for so many turns that everyone else finishes before you.
c. get married and lost in Mount Account.
d. go to Kent.
e. a and b but not c.
f. all of the above.
g. none of the above.

AUXILIARY RULES

Some time before the eighteenth round each player must forfeit one turn and spin the Wheel of Majors. The Wheel should already be prepared according to the easy instructions adjacent to it on the game board. Each player may determine his major field by spinning the arrow and recording his choice in the official space adjacent to the Instructions to the Wheel of Majors. If any player decides at any time that he would like to change his assigned major, he may do so by forfeiting one turn and spinning The Wheel again. However, numerous changes are inadvisable because of the time limitation placed upon the game. If a player forfeits too many throws of the dice, he may never be able to catch-up with the rest in time to finish.

The purpose of chosing a major in this manner is two-fold. It serves to give the player a reason for stopping each time at box #4 and also gives him his first chance to write in an official space.

PENALTIES

If any player is caught in an act of defiance from the established rules or in the practice of any activities not specified as an integral part of this game, he must go to space THIRTEEN where he will discuss the specific infraction with the judicial body. Detainment in this space will continue until the player either rolls a 10, pays $10, or promises to follow the rules thereon.

REVISIONS

Revisions of these rules are occasionally considered, periodically pondered, and usually useless to the better enjoyment of The Mount Union Key to Success Game (a Sit Lux Production).

IMPORTANT FINAL NOTE

This is a game the rules of which are not difficult but can only be learned by playing along. No player is obligated to finish or guaranteed so, but many do. For those who prefer other entertainment, there are many other games produced by Sit Lux Productions that you might like to purchase. "What did I expect from Mount Union when I came here? I don't really know. The question seems more accurate when asked in a different way. That is, what does Mount Union expect from me? The curriculum and the people are varied. This is one factor about Mount Union that is really great. If I want to wander off the straight, narrow road, I can. There are many winding paths to follow. But, if I should yearn for that straight, narrow road again, I can always find it nearby. All of the roads, the straight, the crooked, the long, and the short, have a common destiny . . . the future. No matter which one I may choose to follow at any given time in my life, I know that it will lead me to a certain point in my future. Therefore, I am not lost."

"Here, at Mount Union College, I can follow my various, favorite roads. One leads me to many paths through the world of diversified academics. Another I can follow through the world of sports, as both a spectator and as a competitor. Yet, another road takes me through the, world of friendships; friendships of many qualities."

"Mount Union College lets me wander along my paths of knowledge. I can stop to see the sights or I can run by to another road. At any rate, I not only observe life and learning here; but I experience it as well. Therefore, perhaps Mount Union has succeeded with me so far, in letting me learn about all walks of life."

Lynn M. Clark
(Freshman)

"No longer being a novelty may seem to be a hindrance to some Sophomores, while others may find security in their experience. I find it obscure."

"Decisions must be made. Maybe decisions that are too early to decide and too late to begin anew."

"Pressure comes from everywhere to excel. But motivation goes. There is a new start at an old beginning."

"But, starting the second year, the sophomore already has received a label and a character judgment, which will STICK forever."

"But no one can make you feel inferior without your consent."

"Desperately needing isolation—just to relate to yourself. Peace of mind must be reached."

"Finally realizing idealism never had a place in the world. Finding out the hard way hurts, but lingers. Don't forget the past but don't live in it. Dwelling on negative things can only drag you down. Optimism is there."

Jean Dangel
(Sophomore)

"Junior year . . . a paradox personified . . . hibernation is heightened . . . involvement intensified! It is a year in which we feel ourselves growing, sharpening our focus on the future . . . trying to turn around blindly and run back. We are expanding in all directions, reaching out, stretching forth . . . trying to conform to the solid box for which we are destined. But the most personal paradox of all is to have finally learned how to love Mount . . . with only our Senior year left."

Kathryn Tokar
(Junior)

"This is the last step before going out into the real world. I'm having a hell of a good time."

"Mount Union Campus is fortunate to have a wealth of diversity in religious organization that offers friendship and the opportunity to expand our knowledge in the area of religion, as well as the chance to help others . . .

The Christian Science organization is just in the beginning stages here at Mount. What it lacks in size it makes up in enthusiasm. Its purpose is to provide the opportunity for the college community to learn about Christian Science and unite Christian Scientists in closer bonds of fellowship.

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes is a nationally recognized organization. On our campus, FCA really became active this year. FCA exists to confront athletes, coaches, cheerleaders, and athletic boosters with the challenge and adventure of following Christ and serving him in everyday life.

Ichthys, an informal Bible study group on campus, has established its strength in the last two years. It exists to promote Christian growth through fellowship and Bible study, and to provide opportunities for Christian witness and outreach on the campus."

"Kappa Phi is a national Christian service sorority. Kappa Phi is one of the most active and strongest religious organizations on campus. They provide the vehicle to unite Christian college women in a sisterhood whose purpose is to develop Christian love, spiritual growth and service to others.
Sigma Theta Epsilon is a national Christian service fraternity and the brother organization of Kappa Phi. STE is in a rebuilding stage here at Mount. They exist to provide a background for college men to understand themselves, their faiths, and the world through fellowship and service to others.
Newman Club is another group that has had increasing progress and success in the last three years. Its main purposes are to provide a worship service for Catholics and interested Christians alike. It also fosters fellowship and Christian ideals among interested members of the college community through informal discussion and programs."

"A team for all seasons
—that's Mount's sports
There's always someone to cheer for to scream at to brag about or cut down.

Our sports make our reputation statewide.
Mount Union is as great as its players."

Laurie Marlatt
(senior spectator)

It's as if the ghosts of the past live on in the excellence of today's teams.

This section includes pictures old and new of the people who played throughout the years.

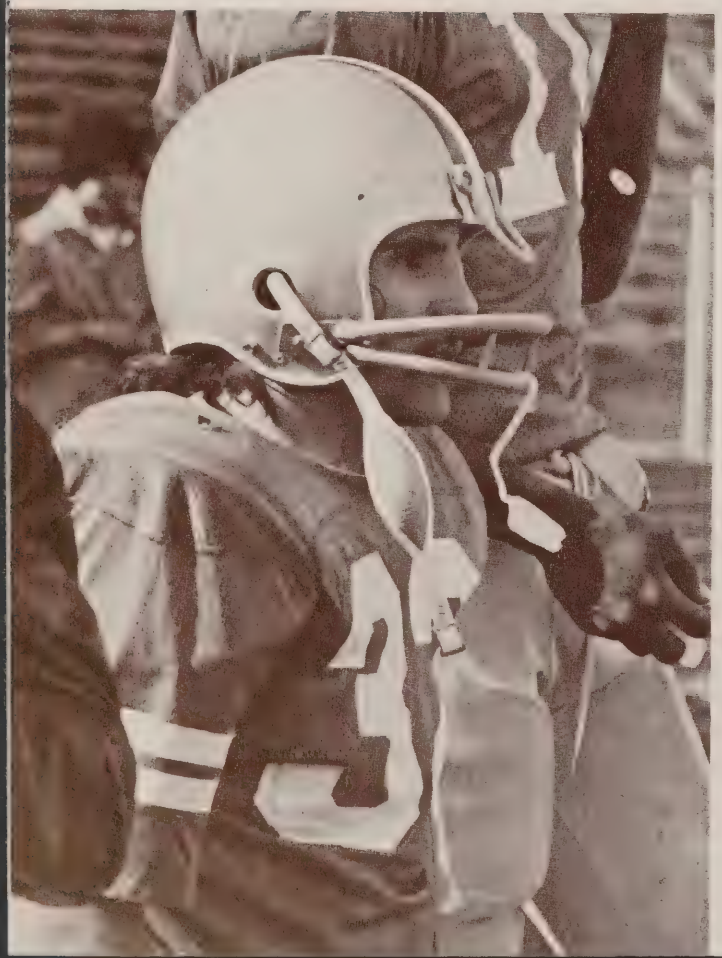
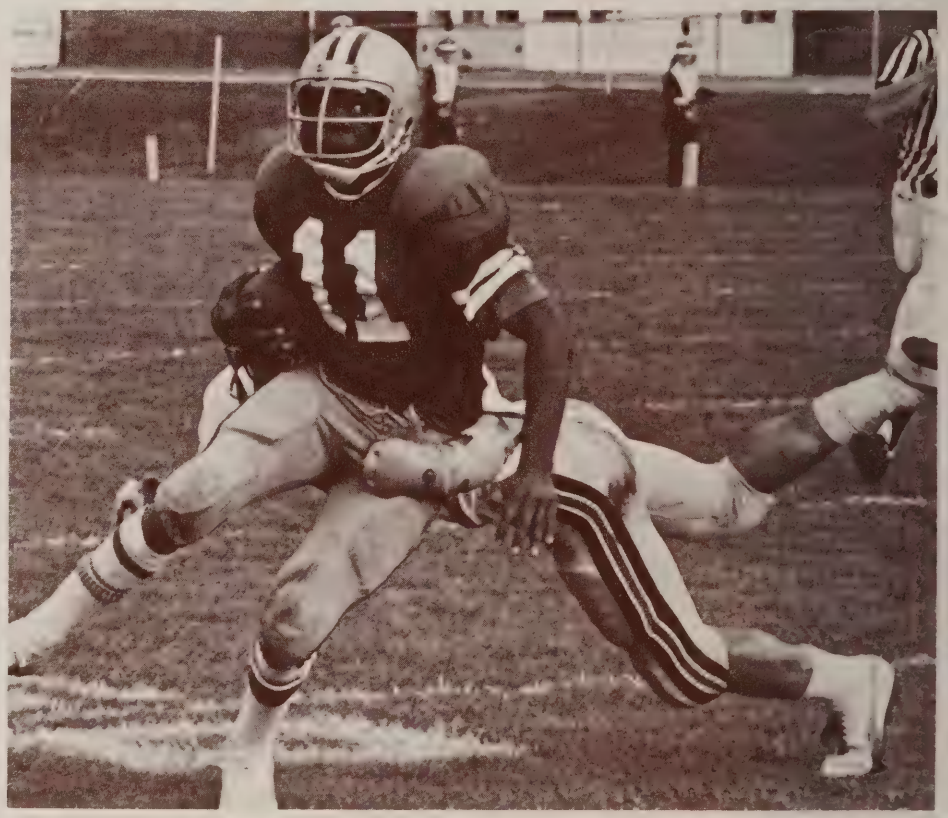
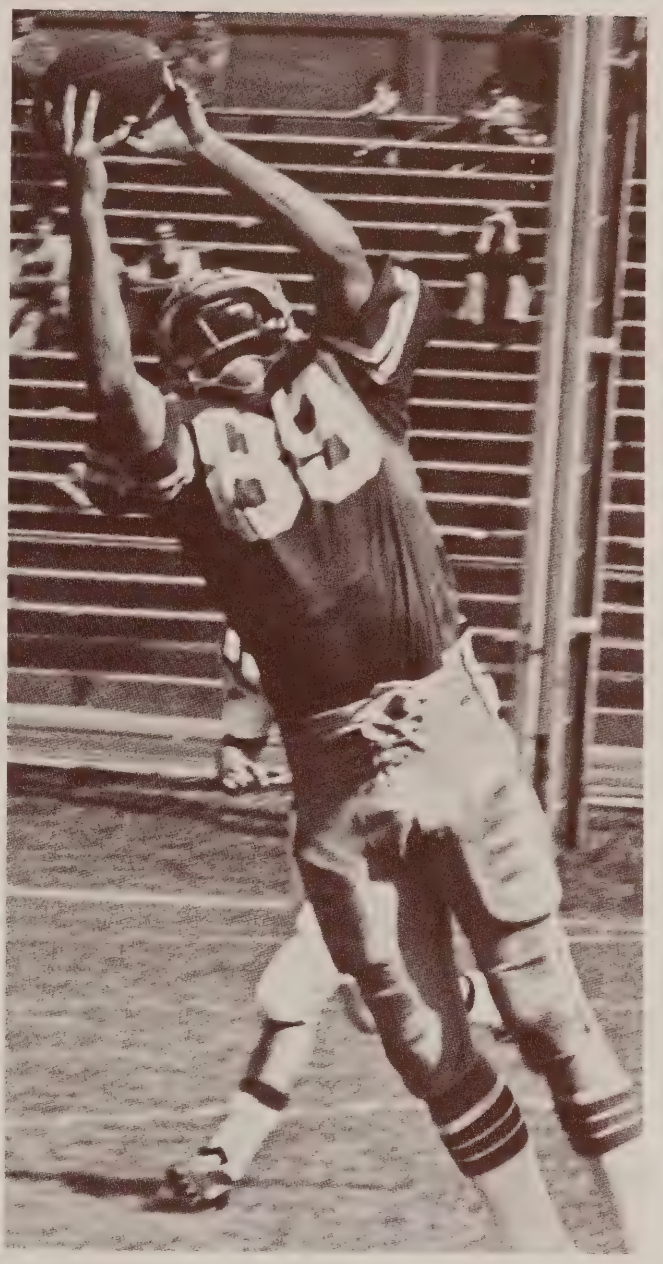
"It takes a lot of determination, hard work, and team pride. To me, this year's team was abundant in these qualities, and everyone associated with it should be proud of it."
Rick Campbell
Football Captain







"Life is a combination of football happenings— if you succeed you're proclaimed a star— if you fail you're given the status of the bench."

"I'm glad we had orientation. It was a time to learn and to get to know people who are in the same situation you are—all scared!"

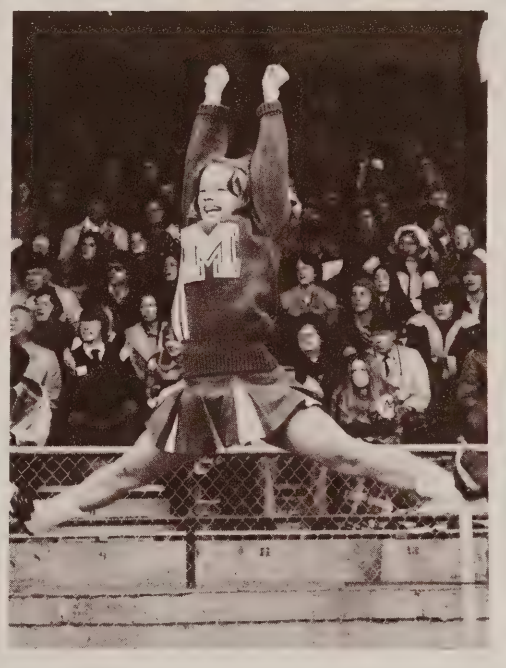
"This Homecoming showed a unique side to Mount Union, and a new attitude from this campus. I'm glad to see the spirit and excitement."
Cindy Messenger
1974 Homecoming Queen



"Homecoming is traditionally an event that encourages alumni to return to their alma mater. At Mount, it is an event that encourages students to remain on campus."
Tim Carey
Homecoming Chairperson

Jonathan Edwards

"The project, which was proposed by Senate only four weeks ago, proved successful according to Mark Haidet, head of the Lakes Committee. Mark explained that, "an estimated 5 to 7 truckloads of algae were removed from the lake, even though the net apparatus was not as efficient as we had hoped it to be." Mary Kay Labosky, president of Student Sentate, explained what her group did when the net failed to work. "We used an alternate net—my window screen! We walked through the lake and held the window screen at an angle to catch the algae." In a more general vein, concerning the project, Mary Kay commented, "It was excellent! So many people came, even those who were not in organizations. The lakes . . . well look at them. There is a marked, visible change." Laurie Marlatt, one of the leaders of the project, also commented, "The people who bothered to come really worked and cooperated." Even though the project was termed a success, the committee has not disbanned. Mark explained, "In the spring we plan to use mild algaecide which would not kill the fish, dig out the deltas which are forming at the inlets and raise the sinking limestones around the lake." Mary Kay added "the committee is a permanent temporary committee which has to be renewed every year. The committee will take care of the general clean-up of the lakes until it is not needed."

"Senate extended warm thanks to: Mr. Davidson and Mrs. Taylor for the delicious hot chocolate and orange drink. Dr. Rice for the "game plan" and constant cheerleading. The profs for help on the apparatus. The Biology Department for their boat and leaky boots. Maintenance for the equipment and the help needed to haul away the debris.

"N.B.: Please help keep the lakes clean . . . don't throw in anything except people!"

(excerpted from an article in the October 31st DYNAMO by Kathryn Tokar.)

"For me the fashion show was a good experience. It showed the variety of activities that AWS gets involved in."
Alaine Oxenrider

pam creedon, director of public information

ALLIANCE, Ohio -- The Mount Union College Board of Trustees voted today (Saturday, Nov. 16) to accept the following policy regarding the use of alcoholic beverages on the college campus:

"Mount Union College expects members of the campus community to act in an accountable and proper manner and to accept full responsibility for their behavior. Mount Union College does not encourage the use of alcoholic beverages because the College believes that the use of alcohol does not contribute to the development of mature, responsible individuals. However, in recognition of the personal freedom which is an inherent part of a responsible academic community, 3.2 beer as allowed by state and local laws, is permitted in individual student rooms, in fraternity and sorority houses and at activities held off campus. Respect for the rights, privacy and property of all members of the campus community is the primary consideration."

The vote of the trustees was 15-11 to accept the policy change.

Greeks have added more service and social activities to our schedule of events. During Greek Week last spring, new games were included with old favorites to keep everybody hopping, dunking, and splashing. This fall we organized a torchlight parade in connection with the traditional Homecoming festivities. This will surely become an annual event. The first two weeks of winter term were busy for all. Formal rush parties culminated in pledging new sorority and fraternity members. The Red Cross Bloodmobile was another Greek-sponsored success. The year ended with the traditional formals, and it proved to be profitable as well as enjoyable.

"And so, Glavcon, the story was saved and not lost; and it would save us, if we would be guided by it, and we shall safely cross the River of Oblivion, and we shall not strain the soul. But if we will follow my advice, believing the soul immortal, and able to undergo all evil things and all good things we will hold ever to the upward road, and we will practice in every way justice along with wisdom in order that we may be friends to the gods and to ourselves as well, both while we remain here on earth, and when we receive the rewards of virtue, like the victors in the game going round collecting their prizes; and that both here and in the thousand-year journey, which I have told you of, all may be well with us."

The Republic, Plato
